Equipment Process – Evaluation to Delivery

1. The order is initiated by contact from you, your doctor or your therapist. Initial information is recorded. This includes your name, address, phone, insurance information, what type of equipment are you using currently, and your diagnosis.
2. After a discussion with your therapist or doctor Numotion will verify your insurance coverage. We will ask if you have met your yearly out of pocket, your co-pay amount, how much will insurance will cover, and what documentation is required to gain prior authorization. We reverify your insurance coverage several times during the process, including at the beginning, before we order the equipment, and prior to delivery. If we discover any change in your coverage then we will contact you immediately. It is your responsibility to notify Numotion of any changes in any of your insurances, including Medicare and Medicaid coverage. Not notifying us of any changes can result in delay of delivery of equipment or increased out-of-pocket costs for you.
3. Once insurance is verified or payment is secured a date to evaluate your equipment will be scheduled. This appointment can be done at a wheelchair clinic, your home, or at a facility. It will include a Numotion seating and mobility specialist, your therapist and/or nurse, and sometimes your doctor. Your equipment options will be discussed with you, and measurements will be taken of your body to ensure you get the proper size equipment. Bring information to this appointment on your existing equipment: what type, where you got it, who paid for it, how old is it. During this appointment you will be asked to sign an evaluation checklist, which authorizes Numotion to have access to your medical info. You will also sign documentation acknowledging the need to notify us of any insurance changes and that you will be responsible for the cost of any non-covered items, co-pays or deductibles.
4. After your evaluation, your therapist and your doctor will complete the necessary paperwork for us to submit to your insurance. Prior authorization is needed for most insurance types. This time frame varies depending on your Insurance. (Generally less than 30 days, but sometimes longer.)
5. Once we receive the authorization from your insurance we will place an order for your equipment. We will reverify your insurance at this time.
6. Due to the complicated nature of the equipment we provide, it can take 1-3 weeks for all of the components to arrive. Once we receive the equipment, our technicians will assemble based on the evaluation notes.
7. Insurance is verified one more time, and then Numotion will contact you and/or your therapist to deliver the equipment. At the time of delivery, operating instructions and safe use of the equipment will be reviewed. You will receive important warranty and safety info.
8. If you need repair or adjustment please contact your local Numotion office.

Product Information – Manual Wheelchairs

OPERATING INSTRUCTIONS

- 1. Folding and unfolding the wheelchair. To fold, simply lift up under the center of the front edge of the seat upholstery. To unfold, tilt the chair slightly to one side to raise the wheels on the opposite side off the floor, then press down on one or both seat rails. (Please note: some ultra-lightweight wheelchairs do not fold.)
- 2. Applying the wheel locks. Push forward on the lock tips (or pull back on the pull-to-lock type), until the locks snap into the locked position. Do not attempt to enter or exit the wheelchair without having the locks securely engaged. These will need adjusting from time to time.
- 3. Folding the footplates, up into a vertical position. If the footplates are equipped with heel loops, these must first be pulled forward over the rear of the foot plates. The footplates can then be folded up into the vertical position by lifting up on the inside edges of the footplates.
- 4. Releasing and swinging away the front rigging. Whether the wheelchair is equipped with standard footrests or elevating legrests, this procedure permits the user to make much closer approaches for easier, safer transfers to beds, toilets, automobiles, etc. Simply activate the release mechanism and swing the front rigging around to the side of the wheelchair. While in this swing away position, the front rigging can also be removed from the chair entirely by lifting it off. This removal will make lifting the chair or loading into a car much easier for the caregiver.

From the swing-away position, the front rigging can be returned to the standard position by simply swinging back to the front of the wheelchair. It will lock automatically in the forward position. If the front rigging has been removed from the chair, simply replace it in the swing-away position, then swing it back to the standard front position when required.

- 5. Elevating legrest adjustment. If the wheelchair is equipped with elevating legrests, the legs of the user can be elevated by simply lifting the leg rests up to the desired position. To lower them again, support the leg rest with one hand while activating the elevation release mechanism with the other and lower to the desired position.
- 6. Footrest length adjustment. The position of the footplate on either standard footrests or elevating legrests is adjustable to fit the user's leg length. The foot plate should be adjusted to support the weight of the user's foot and lower leg in such a position that permits weight bearing by the thighs. A footrest adjustment that is too low will result in a line of pressure under the thigh, at the front edge of the seat upholstery. An adjustment that is too high will raise the user's knees and cause excessive weight to be borne by the buttocks. Either situation increases the risk of pressure sores. The knees and hips of the user should be at approximately the same level.

The lowest edge of the footplate must be at least two inches above the floor to provide safe clearance when negotiating ramps or inclines. Loosening the adjustment bolt with a wrench, telescoping the footplate in or out to achieve the desired position, then retightening the bolt securely, makes this adjustment.

Product Information – Manual Wheelchairs

- 7. Removing and replacing detachable arms. This feature permits lateral or sliding transfers to and from the side of the wheelchair. Release the arm lock on the front receiver socket and lift the arm from the center to avoid binding. To replace the arm, simply reverse the procedure. Attention to the location of the rear receiver socket will make replacing the arm easier.
- 8. Wheelchairs equipped with desk-length detachable arms permit closer approaches to tables or desks. If it is occasionally desirable to have arm support more forward on these models, this is easily accomplished by swapping sides and reversing the desk-length arms. (Please note: Reversing the arms without swapping sides will narrow the distance between the arms and could result in an accident. Wheelchairs with wraparound or spacer-saver style arms cannot be reversed.)
- 9. Use of the tipping levers. Although many wheelchairs are equipped with tipping levers designed to allow a caregiver or attendant to assist in negotiating curbs and other small-level changes, this procedure must be performed with extreme caution and should be attempted only at the advice of your therapist or physician. Injury could result from tipping the wheelchair on its rear wheels.

Tipping levers extend from the bottom rear of the wheelchair frame, just inside the large rear wheels. The attendant should apply pressure downward with one foot on the end of one tipping lever while pressing down on the push handles of the wheelchair. This technique makes small level changes much easier.

If anti-tipping devices, which prevent using the above procedure, have been installed on your wheelchair, they should not be removed or adjusted without first consulting your therapist or physician.

- 10. Special Features. The driver/technician delivering your wheelchair will demonstrate the above basic operating procedures as well as any other special features or extra accessories that were ordered on the chair. These might include such things as: seat positioning or safety belts, grade-aids or hill-holders, wheelchair tray, hemi or low seat frame, reclining back, and many others. Some of these accessories are provided for your safety, and the wheelchair should not be used without them in the correct functioning position.

Product Information – Power Wheelchairs and Scooters

A power wheelchair is one of the most expensive and service-intensive mobility products. The use of high-tech electronics in today's power wheelchairs results in the need for the user to observe certain precautions to operate them in a safe, reliable manner. Scooters, although not as expensive or as technically advanced, have some similarity with regard to certain safety precautions.

Owner's Manual

The tremendous variety of features and designs found in modern power wheelchairs and scooters makes it impossible to cover the specific operating instructions for every model of every manufacturer in these brief instructions. It is essential that the user studies and understands the information in the owner's manual provided with all new power wheelchairs or scooters by the manufacturer. A regular review of information in the owner's manual is also recommended. The owner's manual is always the most reliable source of information about these products.

Prudent Use

Always operate your power wheelchair or scooter well within its reasonable capabilities as well as within your own. Do not attempt to negotiate steep inclines, either up or down. Avoid operating your chair or scooter laterally across inclines; approach even moderate inclines directly, straight up or straight down. Operate your wheelchair or scooter only on hard, relatively smooth surfaces. Avoid rough terrain and soft surfaces such as gravel, sand, and thick grass. As you move about in your power wheelchair or scooter, observe the surface ahead of you to avoid getting stuck or running over bumps, holes, etc. that might turn you over, cause you to be thrown out, or severely damage your wheelchair or scooter.

Service and Maintenance

Have your power wheelchair or scooter serviced only by qualified power wheelchair technicians. The high-tech electronics and complex circuitry in your chair should not be adjusted, serviced, or repaired by even the best-intentioned hobbyist or experimenter. Individuals who are highly competent to service other electrical or electronic products may not be knowledgeable regarding power wheelchairs. Do not install accessories that have not been specifically approved by the manufacturer for use on your power wheelchair. Even approved accessories must be properly installed.

Product Information – Power Wheelchairs and Scooters

Battery Safety

All batteries intended for use on power wheelchairs and scooters contain lead and sulfuric acid and can be quite dangerous. The sulfuric acid is highly caustic and corrosive. Also, during the charging process, these batteries produce hydrogen gas, which is highly flammable and can be explosive. For these reasons, installation, handling, and servicing of these batteries should also be left to properly trained technicians. Charging should always take place in an open, well-ventilated area away from living and sleeping facilities. The batteries may be the wet type, sometimes referred to as lead-acid batteries, or they may be the sealed type, sometimes referred to as sealed lead-acid batteries or SLA batteries.

Numotion only provides sealed batteries. The sealed type battery may also be referred to as a Gel Cell or an Absorbed Glass Mat Battery (AGM). The sealed battery enhances safety and reduces maintenance in several ways.

Sealed batteries are virtually maintenance free, and there is no need to add distilled water to maintain the electrolyte level.

Battery Replacement

Although battery life in power wheelchair and scooter service will vary greatly depending upon patterns of use, the average life of a good quality battery of the correct size and type will usually range from six months to one year. Although they look very much alike, wheelchair batteries are quite different from conventional automobile batteries. Wheelchair batteries are deep-cycle batteries. They are designed to be discharged relatively slowly over a longer period of time and then recharged more slowly for longer periods. Automotive batteries are used for starting a car. They are designed to provide a brief burst of power to start the engine and are quickly recharged by the alternator in the car. Automotive batteries WILL NOT perform well or last very long in deep-cycle service. It is actually quite dangerous to use a “maintenance-free, sealed type, non-serviceable” automotive battery in deep cycle service. The longer periods of charging can cause them to explode. Also, contrary to popular belief, marine batteries are frequently NOT deep-cycle batteries; most are used strictly for starting purposes. It is also important to note that if you change from wet batteries to sealed batteries, even though both may be designed for deep-cycle service, you should have your technician confirm that your battery charger is suitable for the new type battery. Only a qualified power wheelchair technician has the knowledge of wheelchairs, batteries, and chargers, all of which have to be matched correctly, to avoid problems. The actual cost of the batteries may be the smallest expense in the wheeled mobility package, but is the most critical for reliability and safety.

Electromagnetic Interference

Tests by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) have determined that Electromagnetic Interference (EMI) can, under certain conditions, cause power wheelchairs and scooters to move unintentionally and/or erratically, or cause unintended release of the brakes. The most common sources of EMI are radio waves emitted from cellular phones, mobile two-way radios (like those used in police, fire, emergency medical vehicles and taxi cabs), walkie-talkies, CB radios, and amateur (ham) radio transmitters. Other possible sources of EMI are microwave ovens, industrial RF heating equipment, scientific or industrial telemetry equipment and certain medical diagnostic equipment such as magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) machines. Areas in close proximity to TV or radio broadcast stations are frequently heavily saturated with EMI. Certain new devices associated with computer systems may also be a source of EMI.

Some power wheelchairs and scooters have been shielded by the manufacturer to minimize the effect of EMI, but this “immunity level” cannot be made perfect or fool-proof. Even though you may have used your wheelchair or scooter for some time, and have never experienced unintended, erratic motion, or unintended brake release, you should always be alert to this possibility if you are exposed to any sources of radio waves. If unintended, erratic motion or unintended brake release should occur, turn the power wheelchair or scooter OFF as soon as it is safe to do so. You should also report the incident to the manufacturer.

It is important to note that adding accessories or components or otherwise modifying your power wheelchair or scooter may reduce its immunity level to EMI.

Be alert to any nearby sources of radio waves, for example: hand-held cellular phones, microwaves, walkie-talkies, etc. being used by others. (Note - this is not a complete list of devices that may affect your chair) Be aware of passing emergency vehicles that may be operating two-way radios, and, of course, be aware if you are in the vicinity of radio or TV broadcast stations.

Avoiding accidents caused by EMI simply requires prudent use of electronic devices, being aware of your surroundings, and taking common sense precautions.

Using Your Equipment – Safety, Maintenance and Cleaning

These are basic guidelines and you should refer to your owners' manual for specific safety precautions and maintenance for your wheelchair, scooter or other medical equipment.

- Keep your chair free of excess dirt, mud, moisture and road salt. Once a month, wipe your wheelchair with a damp cloth and general purpose cleaner.
- Inspect your wheelchair to ensure that all nuts, bolts, and hardware are properly tightened.
- Ensure that your wheel locks are properly adjusted, and confirm that they lock the drive wheels securely.
- Check hand grips and the rubber tips on the tipping levers to ensure that they are tight and secure.
- Check for proper footrest length adjustment.
- If your physical condition or body weight changes significantly, check with your physician or therapist to confirm that your wheelchair is still appropriate.
- Avoid developing pressure sores from prolonged sitting by frequently practicing some type of weight shift.
- Do not lean forward in your wheelchair unless both feet are flat on the floor. This is particularly important for users with heavy leg casts using elevating leg rests.
- During transfers, make sure power wheelchairs are turned off and wheel locks are engaged.
- If you have pneumatic tires, check for proper tire pressure weekly.
- Do not use or turn on other communication devices such as cellular phones, walkie-talkies, or CB radios while your power wheelchair or scooter is on.
- Use only batteries approved for use with scooters and power wheelchairs.
- Do not go up or down stairs or on steep inclines – doing so may result in some chairs tipping over.
- Post all important numbers, and program emergency numbers into your speed dial .
- Post a list of medications that includes name of medications, recommended dosage and prescribing doctor's name and contact information.
- Change smoke detector batteries twice a year when you change the clocks.

Using Your Equipment – Safety, Maintenance and Cleaning

- Remove clutter in halls, around bed, and tables. Remove or secure all rugs on the floor. Pad sharp edges of furniture.
- If in an emergency you would require assistance to get out of your home, contact your local fire department and provide advance notice of your needs.
- In case of fire, have a practiced plan in place to safely escape your home. Install smoke detectors, fire alarm and/or a fire extinguisher. Avoid smoking in bed and handle all flammable materials in a safe manner.
- Notify the electric company if you have medical equipment that requires electricity in case of power outage.
- Do not overload outlets. Use a surge protector strip for more than 2 items. Use only grounded outlets for medical equipment. Avoid contact with water while using electrical appliances.

Service and Repair

We know your wheels are your independence, and we're able to provide you with fast, reliable and convenient service. Contact us as soon as you notice signs that your wheelchair is not functioning correctly.

Service at a Numotion Location

You have the option bring your chair to our office to be fixed by one of our highly trained technicians while you wait. We recommend service in our shop as more parts, tools, and dedicated workspace are available. If you cannot visit our office, we can also dispatch a technician to your home, healthcare facility, school, or job.

There are some repairs that must be performed in our shop; or those that will take more than one day, and we may be able to provide a rental wheelchair, if a clinically appropriate one is available at the servicing location.

Remote Service

We are leading the way with technology designed to deliver the fastest resolution of your service issues. Leveraging a secure, safe and reliable phone app, we connect you with a certified service technician who speaks with you or a caregiver on the phone. The app manages a live video stream that allows our tech to diagnose many issues without a visit. This insight allows the tech to order a part for installation at a scheduled time or in some cases talk you through simple procedures to resolve the problem completely.

Service Technicians

Our service technicians play an important role in keeping you safe and comfortable. Before working with customers, our Numotion technicians attend a structured training program. Here, they learn about all the technical aspects of wheelchairs and how to provide the best service for our customers.

Each center uses specialized testing, equipment and tools. We're also staffed with certified experts who have years of experience with a variety of wheelchair manufacturers and other brands. We're always here to help – even if you didn't buy your product from Numotion.

Service and Repair

Safety and Performance Inspection

We know exactly what should be expected from a wheelchair. To ensure your wheels meet our high expectations, we perform a safety and performance inspection at every service appointment. This gives you and us the peace of mind that your equipment is working as well and safely as possible. We do a thorough inspection of all the wheelchair components, including:

- Electronics
- Motor assemblies
- Wheel assemblies
- Casters
- Cushions
- Positioning devices
- Arm and foot rests
- Frame

Transfer Policy

Please note that Numotion policy does not allow our technicians to perform any service or repairs to a wheelchair while the user is seated in the chair, nor can our technicians assist with transfers. Make arrangements to have caregiver assist available, if needed to transfer the user out of the chair, so that we may safely do any repairs and prevent risk of injury to the wheelchair user.

Rental and Loaner Wheelchairs

- Rental and loaner wheelchairs are the property of Numotion. Rentals will be provided within the guidelines of your insurance carrier. Rentals or loaners may be provided when a repair takes longer than usual or when there is a delay in obtaining new equipment. Loaners will be subject to availability and may not match the wheelchair it is replacing.
- Rentals and loaners are to be maintained in good condition. Normal wear and tear is expected. If the wheelchair is misused, damaged, lost, stolen, sold or otherwise missing then you will be responsible for the cost of replacement.

These symptoms could include itching, hives, runny nose, itchy/teary eyes, rash, trouble breathing, nausea, facial swelling or swelling in other parts of the body and/or anaphylactic shock. If you experience these symptoms, contact your health care provider or dial 911.

Emergency Preparedness

Our equipment is designed to operate through routine inconveniences, such as brief power losses during storms. There are potential emergencies during which your needs may exceed the reasonable resources we can provide (flood, fire, other natural disaster, etc.) Consider your emergency plans.

- If you are vulnerable because of immobility, dependent on medical equipment which requires electrical power, or living in an area likely to require evacuation in a major storm - we encourage you to create a plan and be prepared. Consider community resources like offices of the local Civil Defense or Red Cross. Many localities/agencies encourage those in need of medical assistance or who are equipment dependent to preregister for transportation, shelter or assistance.
- Resuscitation Guidelines: It is expressly understood that all staff will provide emergency assistance to the maximum level of their knowledge and training. Numotion honors all manufacturers' warranties on parts for the products we sell. Warranty claims are processed according to manufacturers' guidelines and in accordance with the law. Labor charges may apply to replace specific warranty parts. If you choose to purchase used equipment, original manufacturer warranties will not apply.

Most of the equipment that Numotion sells is custom/special order and is not returnable. However, if a piece of equipment is found to be substandard or defective, Numotion will accept the return of that equipment; and at Numotions' discretion, repair or replace the equipment.

Title to rental equipment will transfer to the consumer if/when it has been paid to purchase per Medicare or insurance rules. Any remaining manufacturer's warranty will also transfer to the consumer. If rented equipment, during the rental period, needs repairs, it will be repaired or replaced (at Numotions' discretion) at no charge to the consumer, unless the consumer was directly responsible through abuse or misuse of the rental equipment. Once title transfers to the consumer, any non-warranty repairs will be the financial responsibility of the consumer.

Labor Charges

Our labor charges are not covered by the manufacturer's warranty. We do provide a sixty (60) day warranty on our labor from the date of purchase of the equipment. After sixty (60) days, we charge the current labor rate per hour for service and warranty work.

Insurance Coverage

Many services are covered by insurance. We accept most major funding sources and health plans. For services not covered by insurance, we accept check or credit card payments.

Billing and Financial Responsibility

We are committed to providing you with the best possible service and equipment. We accept Medicare, Medicaid, and most insurance payers, striving to help you receive the maximum allowable benefit. In order to achieve this goal, we need your assistance and your understanding of our billing and payment policies.

1. If you have an out-of-pocket financial responsibility (usually for insurance co-payments and deductibles, and for any items non-covered by your insurance plan), 50% of your anticipated balance is due prior to ordering equipment, with the remaining amount due at the time services are rendered, unless payment arrangements have been approved in advance. We accept cash, check, money orders and credit cards. Returned checks and balances older than 30 days may be subject to additional collection fees and interest charges.
2. You need to provide us with a copy of your insurance card(s) or your ID and Group numbers so that we may verify insurance coverage and let you know whether we can bill to your insurance plan.
3. For private insurance, the customer is responsible for any co-payments and unmet deductible, or for the entire balance if the insurance carrier denies payment.
4. For Medicare, the customer is responsible for Medicare 20% co-payments and the deductible(s). You may have a supplemental plan that will pay these amounts.
5. Numotion will usually accept assignment on your secondary or supplemental policies. We will notify you in advance if we cannot accept assignment on these. If we agree to bill your secondary or supplemental policy, you will still be financially responsible for any charges that may be denied.
6. In some cases, Numotion will not accept assignment on charges that are considered too small to incur reasonable billing costs. We will always notify you in advance.
7. You have the right to inquire about insurance authorizations or denials obtained by Numotion. Upon request, copies of these documents can be made available upon approval from a Numotion Manager.
8. You have the responsibility of notifying Numotion of any changes in your insurance coverage, including changes in employment that may affect your coverage.

Medicare DMEPOS Supplier Standards

The products and/or services provided to you by Numotion are subject to the supplier standards contained in the Federal regulations shown at 42 Code of Federal Regulations Section 424.57(c). These standards concern business professional and operational matters (e.g., honoring warranties and hours of operation). The full text of these standards can be obtained from the U.S. Government Printing Office website. Upon request we will furnish you a written copy of the standards.

Medicare/Medicaid Information

What is Medicare?

Medicare is a Federal insurance program that primarily serves people over 65, whatever their income; and also may cover younger disabled people and dialysis patients. Beneficiaries pay part of the costs through deductibles and co-payments. It is basically the same everywhere in the United States and is run by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, an agency of the federal government. Medicare has three parts: Part A is Hospital Insurance; Part B is Medical Insurance and covers doctor visits and home medical equipment. Part D covers prescription medications

What is Medicaid?

Medicaid is a jointly funded, Federal-State health insurance program for certain low-income and needy people. It covers approximately 60 million individuals including children, the aged, blind, and/or disabled, and people who are eligible to receive federally assisted income maintenance payments. Medicaid benefits cover most health care costs. Medicaid programs vary from state to state. Contact the State medical assistance office to get information on the Medicaid program in your State.

What is "assignment" in the original Medicare Plan and why is it important?

Assignment is an agreement between Medicare and doctors, other health care providers, and suppliers of health care equipment and supplies (like wheelchairs, hospital beds, and some supplies). Doctors and suppliers who agree to accept assignment accept the Medicare-approved amount as payment in full for Part B services and supplies.

You pay the coinsurance and deductible amounts. In some cases (such as if you have both Medicare and Medicaid), your health care providers and suppliers must accept assignment. If assignment is not accepted, charges are often higher. This means you may pay more. In addition, you may have to pay the entire charge at the time of service. Medicare will then send you its share of the charge.

Medicare/Medicaid Information

I have more than one insurance, how do I know who pays first?

If any of the following situations apply to you, your other insurance may be primary to Medicare, meaning the other insurance pays first:

- You have Medicare; are still working; and are covered by your employer's health insurance plan;
- You have Medicare, are retired, but your spouse is working and has a health plan that also covers you; or
- You are injured on the job, in an automobile accident, or slip and fall at a shopping center (worker's compensation, auto insurance or liability insurance may cover the cost of medical care related to the accident).

You can contact the Coordination of Benefits Contractor at 1-800-999-1118 for questions about, or to report changes in, your primary insurance. Medicare has a dedicated "Coordination of Benefits Contractor" that keeps track of when Medicare is primary or when another insurer is primary. If you have other insurance and it pays after Medicare, it is usually a supplemental insurance. Supplemental insurance often covers the deductible and/or co-payments required by Medicare. Examples include:

- Retiree insurance from your former employer or union;
- Medigap insurance;
- Tricare for Life (for military retirees); and
- Medicaid

If you change your supplemental insurance, or are experiencing problems with supplemental insurance payments, you need to call your old and new supplemental insurance companies.

What is an Advanced Beneficiary Notice (ABN)?

An ABN is a written notice that you may receive from physicians, providers, or suppliers, before they furnish a service or item to you, notifying you:

- That Medicare will probably deny payment for that specific service or item in your case.
- The reason the physician, provider, or supplier expects Medicare to deny payment.
- That you will be personally and fully responsible for payment if Medicare denies payment.

An ABN also gives you the opportunity to refuse to receive the service or item, and to decide whether or not you want a Medicare claim to be filed.

When you receive an ABN:

- The ABN protects you from unexpected financial liability in cases where Medicare denies payment. The "bad news" is that Medicare probably will not pay. The "good news" is that you now have the opportunity to choose whether or not to receive the service or item.

Medicare/Medicaid Information

- The ABN helps you to make an informed consumer decision about whether to obtain the service or item and be prepared to pay for it (that is, either out of your own pocket or by your other insurance coverage) or to choose not to receive it.
- The ABN allows you to have your claim reviewed by Medicare if you do receive the service or item. This also means that you will have the right to appeal Medicare's decision.

Medicare payment for Capped Rental items (including hospital beds, patient lifts, many manual and power wheelchairs and some wheelchair accessories).

If your physician has prescribed a capped rental item for you, if you meet Medicare coverage guidelines, Medicare will pay for this item(s) on a monthly rental basis. Medicare will pay rental for 13 months; at the end of 13 months, ownership of the equipment will transfer from Numotion to you. Once you own the equipment, it is your responsibility to arrange for any needed service or repairs; Medicare may help with the costs. During the rental period, Numotion is responsible for maintaining your equipment in good working order. Contact us if you have any problems with your rental equipment. Medicare rental coverage may end before conversion to purchase if (1) your physician has documented that you have only a short term length of need for this item; (2) you stop using the equipment in your home on a regular basis; (3) you leave your home and are admitted to a hospital or nursing facility; or (4) you change your insurance to a different type of coverage. It is your responsibility to notify Numotion if you stop using your equipment, if you move from your current home, or if you change insurance.

Medicare Payment for Items deemed “Inexpensive or Routinely Purchased” (including canes, crutches, walkers, most commodes, most wheelchair options and accessories).

If your physician has prescribed equipment for you that Medicare classifies as “Inexpensive or Routinely Purchased”, Medicare allows either purchase or rental of these items. If Medicare is billed for rental, they will pay only up to the purchase price.

Numotion only offers this equipment on a purchase basis. If you wish to rent, you may contact other providers. By accepting delivery of this equipment, you agree to ownership of the item.
